

Relocation Announcement

Western Forge has been supplying quality forged products worldwide for 63 years from our Santa Clara, California location. In a continuing effort to better serve our industry, we are proud to announce the opening of our new facility.

Beginning July 16, 2007, all sales and manufacturing will be located in Cleveland, Texas, 30 miles north of Houston. The new plant will have improved capabilities with more modern production equipment.

The Santa Clara, California facility will be closed as of July 13, 2007. All equipment, personnel, and existing orders will be transferred to the Cleveland, Texas plant.

This is a very exciting time for our Company. I am confident the decision to move to a more modern and efficient facility will bring improved quality and faster service to you our customer. These innovations will also help us control cost and maintain a competitive edge in a growing market.

All efforts are being made to maintain uninterrupted production of your order. Our sales staff will keep you updated on the status of your orders. Our operational goal is to make a seamless transition.

Below is our new address and contact information. All email addresses will remain the same as well as our toll free number.
